

Identity Protection Clarity Report

Prepared for [Your Name] · [Date]

A record of where your identity protection stands, as you reported it.

Of the systems reviewed: 4 reported in place · 3 unsure or unverified · 3 not yet established

Before this Review, your identity protection lived as a mix of assumptions, partial memories, and disconnected systems. This report brings them into one place — so you can see what you've already explored, what's still uncertain, and what you hadn't yet looked at. The point isn't to grade you. It's so you're no longer guessing.

Where You Stand

Your status across each area. (In your real report, each area lists the specific named systems within it.)

AREA	STATUS
Credit Protection	Reported in place
Specialty Consumer Files	Not yet established
Government Records	Unsure / unknown

---

Tax-Related Protection	Reported not in place
Account Security	Reported partially in place
Mail & Communication	Not discussed

Your real report breaks each area into its specific systems — including several most people have never heard of.

Known vs. Unknown

What you can now account for — and what's still open.

What you can now account for

- The areas you've confirmed are in place
- The ones you know you haven't done — now named

What's still open

- The areas you're unsure about
- The systems that were new to you today

Before today, this lived in your head as a rough sense of "mostly handled." Now it's laid out — including the parts you couldn't have listed on your own.

You don't need to keep all of this in your head. That's what this record is for. What was scattered across different systems, assumptions, and half-memories now lives in one place — yours to return to whenever you need it.

This is an illustrative sample. Your report is personalized to what you report in your Review — including the full landscape of systems involved.
